

Click Here To Check Current Inland Empire Traffic Conditions \(http://kvcrnews.org/traffic\)

Mid-Century Modern Architect William Krisel Honored During Palm Springs Modernism Week

By MATT GUILHEM \(/PEOPLE/MATT-GUILHEM\) • FEB 17, 2016

Twitter \(http://twitter.com/intent/tweet?url=http%3A%2F%2Fwww.tinyurl.com%2Fh165xlf&text=Mid-Century%20Modern%20Architect%20\)

As Modernism Week continues in Palm Springs, the desert city showed its appreciation for one of its most influential architects yesterday (Tuesday). The tract homes of William Krisel helped establish the seamless relationship between indoors and outdoors that came to epitomize "California Living." KVCR's Matt Guilhem was at the ceremony honoring Krisel.

http://mediad.publicbroadcasting.net/p/kvcr/files/styles/x_large/public/201602/DSC08958.JPG

Palm Springs city officials and others gather to pay tribute to mid-century modern architect William Krisel with a newly-renamed street in his honor.

CREDIT MATT GUILHEM FOR KVCR

Listen

0:00

Feature report from KVCR's Matt Guilhem